KEY 'S TO THE GAME

- ÷ How does Idaho handle the favorite role? They are now 4-1 and favored in only the 2nd game since 2007. It won't help that Hawaii is 5-0 SU and ATS in this series.
- ÷ Can Hawaii's back up QB remain productive passing (he is +0.2 ypa compared to Alexander's +0.9 ypa), but should be enough to exploit a poor Idaho pass D that is -0.6 ypa TY

OFFENSE ADVANTGE OVER DEFENSE (PER ATT)

SUMMARY

I think Hawaii's poor performance the last 2 weeks and Idaho's fast start have really twisted this line (it opened at nearly -12). The reality is that Idaho has looked good but vs very suspect competition. They Ave O they've faced is ave only 328 ypg and 5.0 yppl, yet Idaho has allowed 26 ppg & 5.7 yppl. When we adjusted for the loss of Alexander at QB for Hawaii, we still project over 8 ypa, largely due to Idaho's bad pass D. Hawaii projects 7.3 yppl compared to 6.1 for Idaho. 40% of our models have Hawaii winning outright, and when we run a cross analytic across all the models to find the range of plausible scores 42% of the results have 29-32 for Idaho and 29-31 for Hawaii. Given a ML going off at +250-+270 this is probably a good spot for a ML play. We'll resist the urge to call for the SU win, but will stick with the model average. Hawaii 28 Idaho 32...Hawaii is a #2 recommended play at +9
